American Business and Technology University \(ABTU\), an online university founded in 2001, is fully accredited by the DETC (Distance and Education Training Council), an accrediting agency recognized by both CHEA and the U.S. Department of Education. Both schools use the latest technology to develop and deliver a highly engaging, interactive curriculum, combining the best of the face-to-face interaction of more traditional brick and mortar schools and the interactive technology of the 21st century. With access to their classes 24/7, students can work on their own schedule and get help with areas they struggle in when they need it. College courses offered through this partnership also have the added benefit of live, instructor-led lectures. Both schools also put a focus on providing certified teachers and qualified, experienced faculty to facilitate the learning process and to help students through difficult material via Skype, email, chat, webinar and whiteboards to provide the necessary support to maximize every student's success.
